Faculty Personalities ...

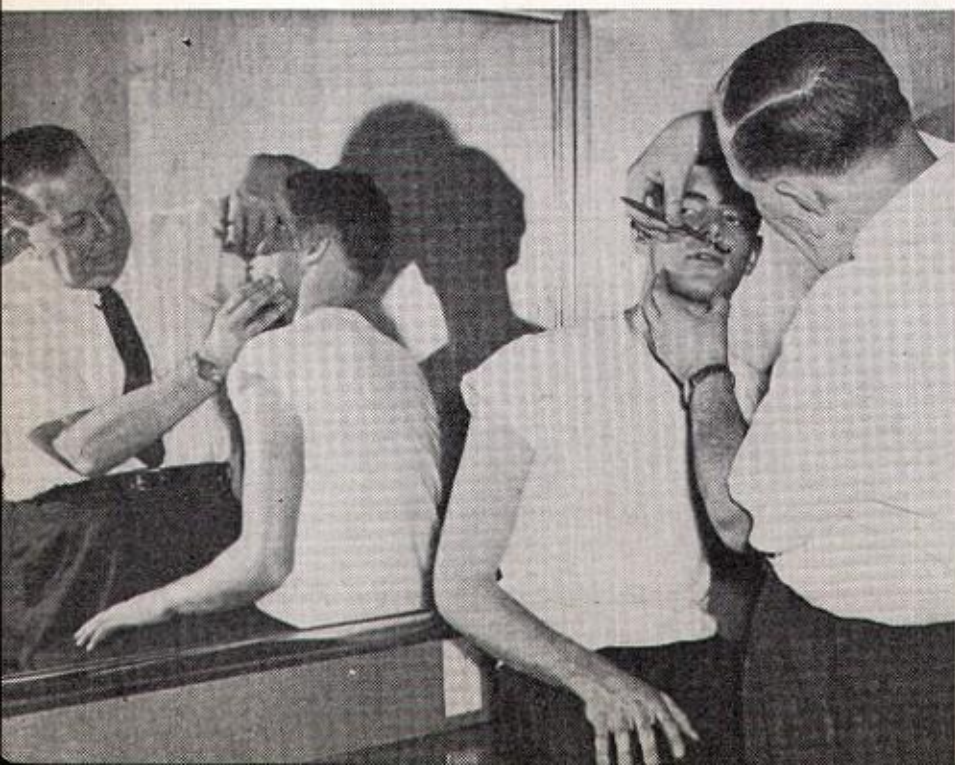

Physics really won't make your hair stand up.

Being a member of the Shelbyville High School faculty certainly is not an easy job. In addition to regular classroom work, teachers often go beyond the call of duty to help make SHS students better individuals. They devote many hours to such activities as producing plays, sponsoring various clubs and organizations, or chaperoning dances. The students of SHS are indebted to the members of the faculty for their devoted interest in the leaders of tomorrow.

Is it Hedda Simpson or Irene Hopper?

Does Mr. Kocher really know how the Devil looks?

Academic Opportunities ...

National Merit Scholarship Finalists:
Mr. Clay, Tom Trueb, Jack Borst, John Shambach, Larry Buchanan, Mr. Sharp.

NATIONAL MERIT QUALIFIERS

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test is administered to juniors in high schools throughout the country each spring. The following fall a second test is given to a few top ranking students from which the scholarship recipients are chosen. SHS had three finalists — Jack Borst, John Shambach, and Tom Trueb — and one recipient of special commendation, Larry Buchanan.

SUMMER INSTITUTE

During the summer between junior and senior years, many colleges and universities throughout the nation conduct practical workshops. Boys' and Girls' State held at Indiana University are perhaps the best known. Others, held at Butler and Michigan State Universities, are strictly academic, dealing with mathematics and the sciences. Indiana University and Ball State offer interesting pointers in art and journalism.

D.A.R. Award — Linda Jones

The D.A.R. Award, given annually, is both a statewide and nationwide award. Linda Jones was presented with a pin and certificate signifying her accomplishment.

Vestavia Award — Anita Wisker

The Vestavia Award originated in 1963. It is a medal given by the Woman's Club and presented to the girl most outstanding in academics. The recipient of this award for 1964 was Anita Wisker.

World Affairs Institute

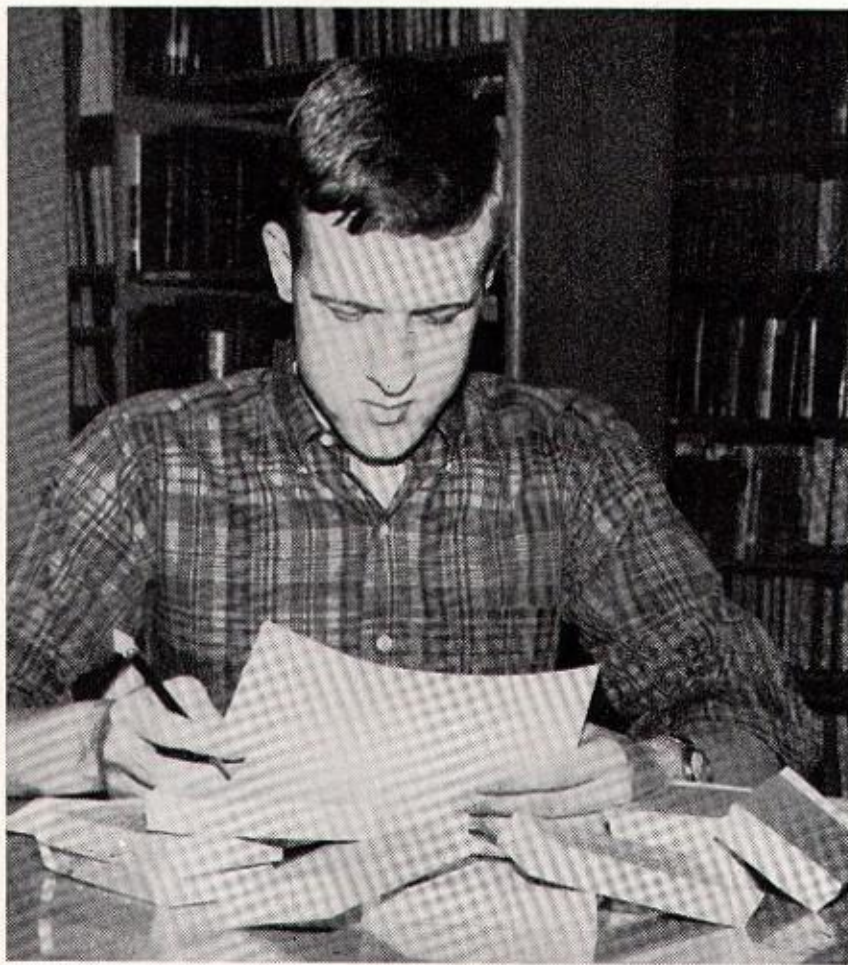

Each year the Shelbyville Rotary Club sends four seniors to the World Affairs Institute in Cincinnati, Ohio. The Institute offers students from Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, and West Virginia an opportunity to learn more about various topics through films, speakers, and discussions.

In studying this year's subject — Latin America and the OAS — Jack Borst, Dennie Jane Haehl, Linda Jones and Mike McRoberts were privileged to hear Ambassador Eugenio de Anzorena, the Mexican Ambassador to the United States, speak on the political, economical, and social reforms made in Mexico. Mr. Melvin Davies, the faculty sponsor, accompanied the representatives.

Extra Activities

The Prom is indeed one of the highlights of the year for juniors and seniors. Juniors raise money by candy sales in the student center at lunch time while they look forward to being excused from classes to decorate the gym. The theme is top secret so as to keep seniors in the dark until the big night.

At last year's Prom couples danced in an atmosphere of the old South and, while the "Natchez Queen" made its way up stream, many made wishes at the wishing well. Probably the most unusual bit of scenery was the sparkling pond with a live baby alligator in it.

After purchasing a ticket for a ride on the "Carrousel," SHS seniors and juniors entered the prom world of 1964. Four animals turned 'round on the carrousel centerpiece. The west wall of the gym appeared to be a line of shops and the stage a bandstand. The court was seated on a smaller carrousel.

PROM COURT: Wayne Kinnick, Michele Dellekamp, Judy Haas, Chris Rehme, Janie Cord, Bob Chambers.

"I proclaim you, Gloria, Queen of the May!"

Social life is as much a part of our lives as the knowledge gained in classes. What spring season would be complete without the traditional May Festival? These precious moments have been re-captured through pictures on the following pages.

"Someday we'll be on the court, Rickie."

Majorettes practice "Java" dance routine for 1964 May Festival.

"Tea for Two" set the tempo for a soft-shoe at the '63 May Festival.

Science Wonderland

Green grow our bananas, but not for long.

Amateur physicists, Don McDaniel and John Turner try this experiment with pulleys.

SCIENCE

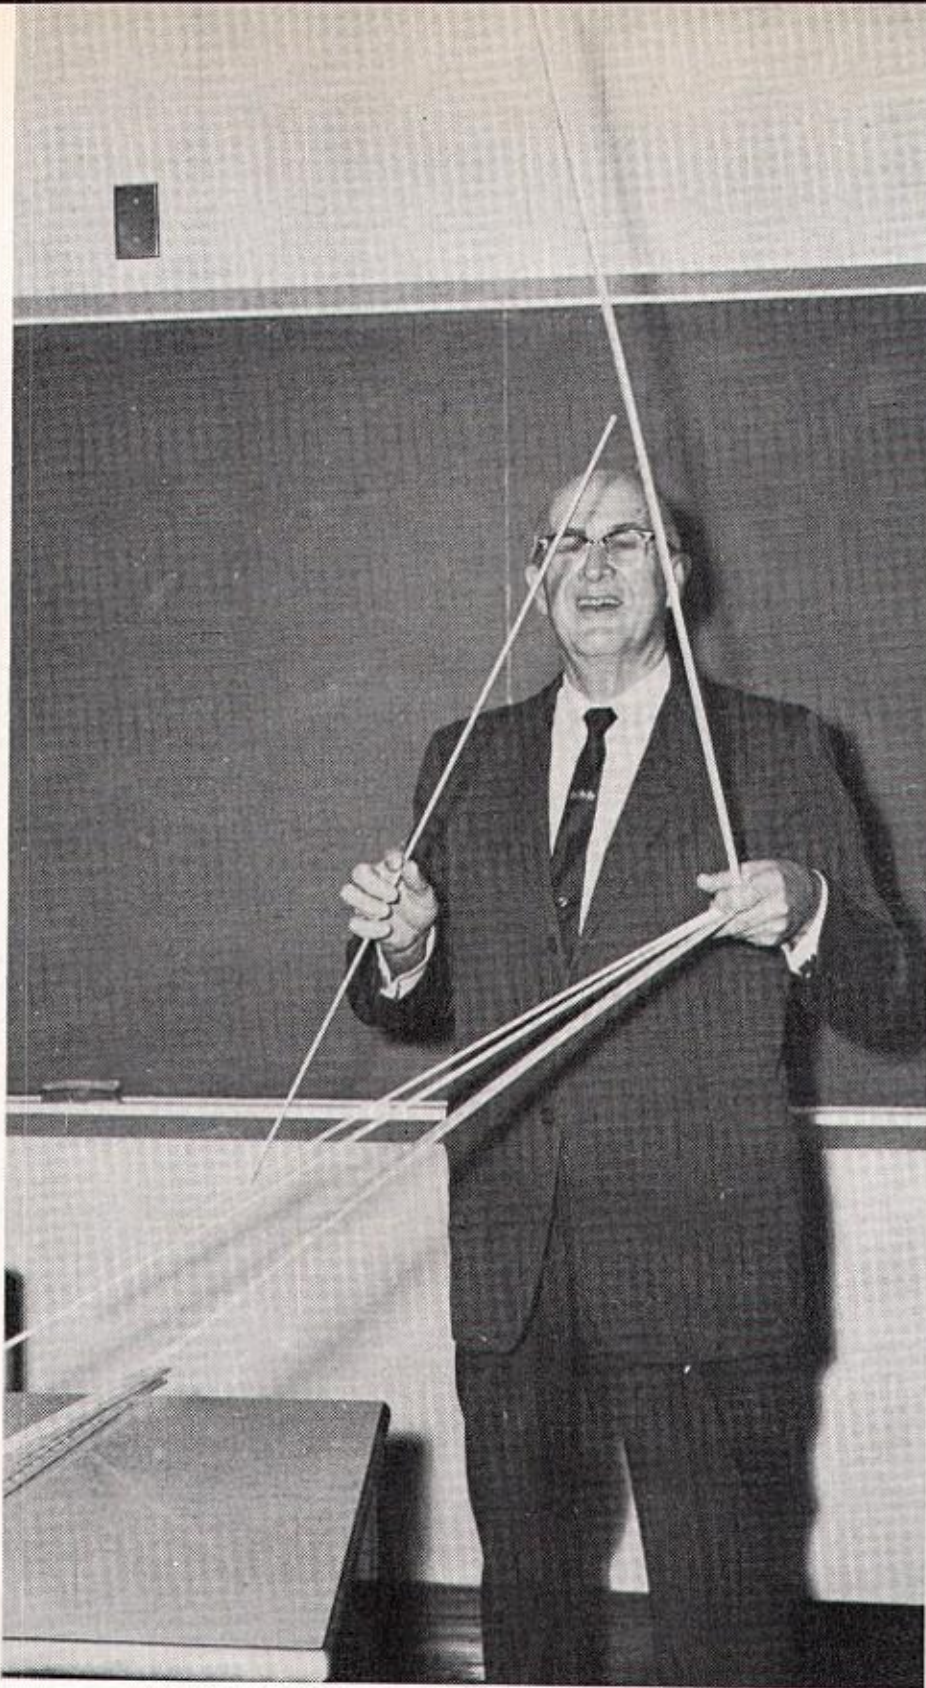

Maybe you've smelled some strange odors floating along in the hall or maybe you've seen one of the teachers jumping up and down on his desk or perhaps you've dissected a worm just before lunch. Chances are if any of these instances sound familiar that's because they're all a part of the science courses offered at SHS. In the course of a year many different projects are undertaken by the science students. Biology students may dissect worms and grasshoppers, collect and study leaves, and raise their own plants (and animals). In chemistry class students may be making copper sulfate, oxygen, or metal alloys in their experiments.

Mirrors, ice cubes, pulleys and calipers are just a few of the instruments used by the physics students in their quests for knowledge in studying principals and discoveries that date back as far as Archimedes and Democritus.

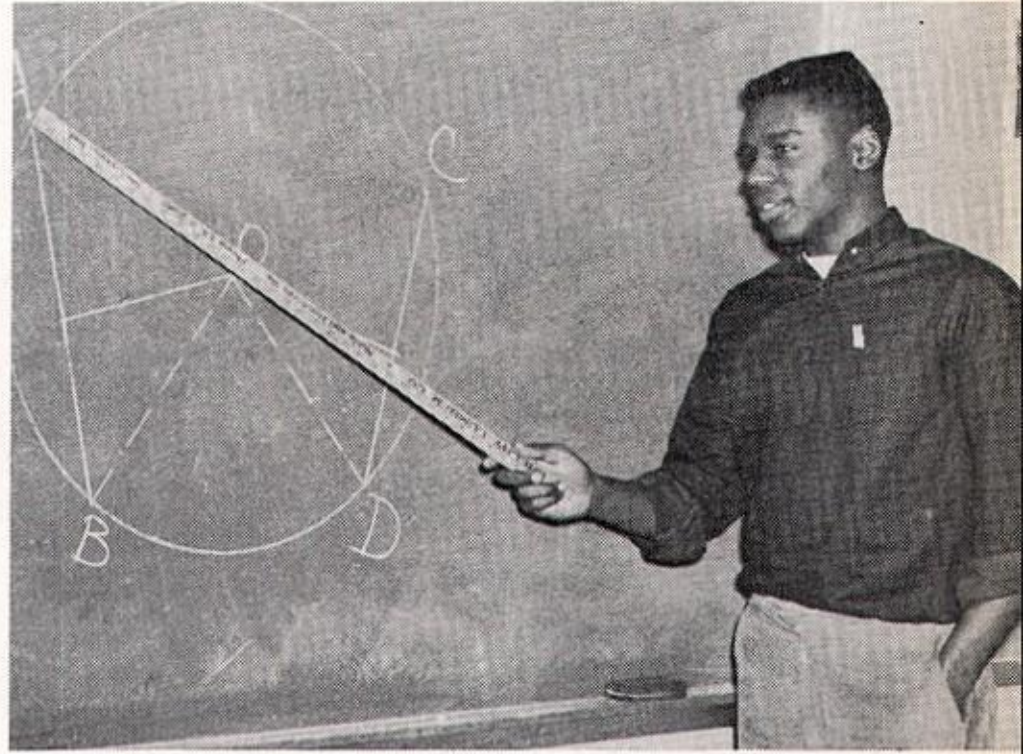

Experiments in chemistry prove to be serious business to Mr. Thompson's classes.

Addition, Subtraction Confusion

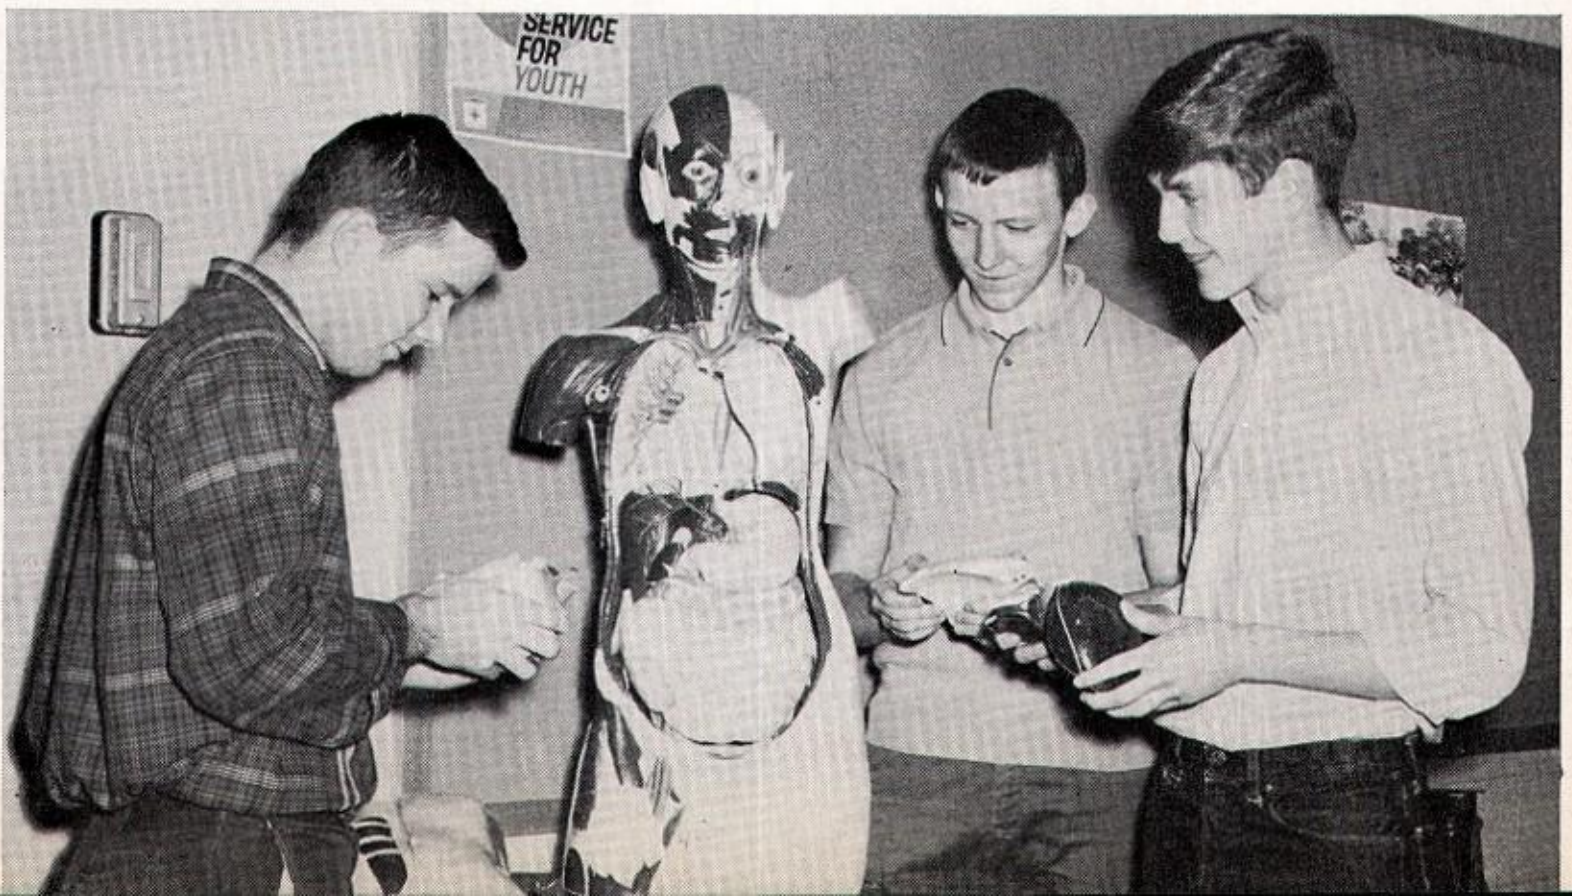

Architect J. M. McKeand constructs for his senior students a . . .

See, everything at SHS isn't square.

In facing the technical world of tomorrow, a sound knowledge of math is essential. Proving two triangles congruent, solving an equation by the quadratic formula, and finding the logarithmic solution of the right triangle are just some of the problems encountered by students taking math courses. Math is one of the most popular and interesting courses at S.H.S. The different math courses include geometry, the sophomore year, advanced algebra, the junior year, and trigonometry, the senior year. Besides good thinking ability, slide rules, compasses and protractors are all needed by math students in solving their assignments.

Health, inside and out.

Mr. Coomer has fascinating lecture for at least part of his class.

We make our own history

HISTORY

Columbus, Guttenburg, and Alexander the Great are some of the many fascinating characters that members of the sophomore World History classes study. The first year of history at SHS is designed to familiarize the students with world happenings up until the time of World War I.

Junior history students learn about such great Americans as George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Memorizing the Preamble to the Constitution and studying other such documents as the Gettysburg Address and the Declaration of Independence help students to understand better their American Heritage.

Government, economics, and American problems are the history courses designed to prepare seniors to assume their duties as United States citizens. Government students learn about the history and basic principles of state and federal government. Buying and selling stocks with imaginary money is just one way in which economics students gain valuable knowledge in pecuniary matters. In American problems the seniors study personal and social problems in learning how to get along with others.

These familiar faces seem very interesting to Mr. Hemingway's sophomore history students.

Juniors learn to use library in work on term papers.

Intense work makes better students

ADVANCED HISTORY

Writing term papers, giving oral reports, and taking lecture notes are all devices used to prepare members of the advanced history class for future courses in college. The 24 juniors in this year's class were chosen on the basis of their work and advancement in the regular United States history classes during the first semester of the school year. In addition to assigning papers and reports, Mr. Ray Hinshaw helps prepare the students for future studies by acquainting them with a college type testing system using both objective and essay forms.

Book reports appear to be fun in one of Mrs. Webster's literature classes.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

The English classes teach the fundamentals of English grammar and composition during the first semester. In the second semester sophomores study World literature, juniors study American literature, and seniors study English literature

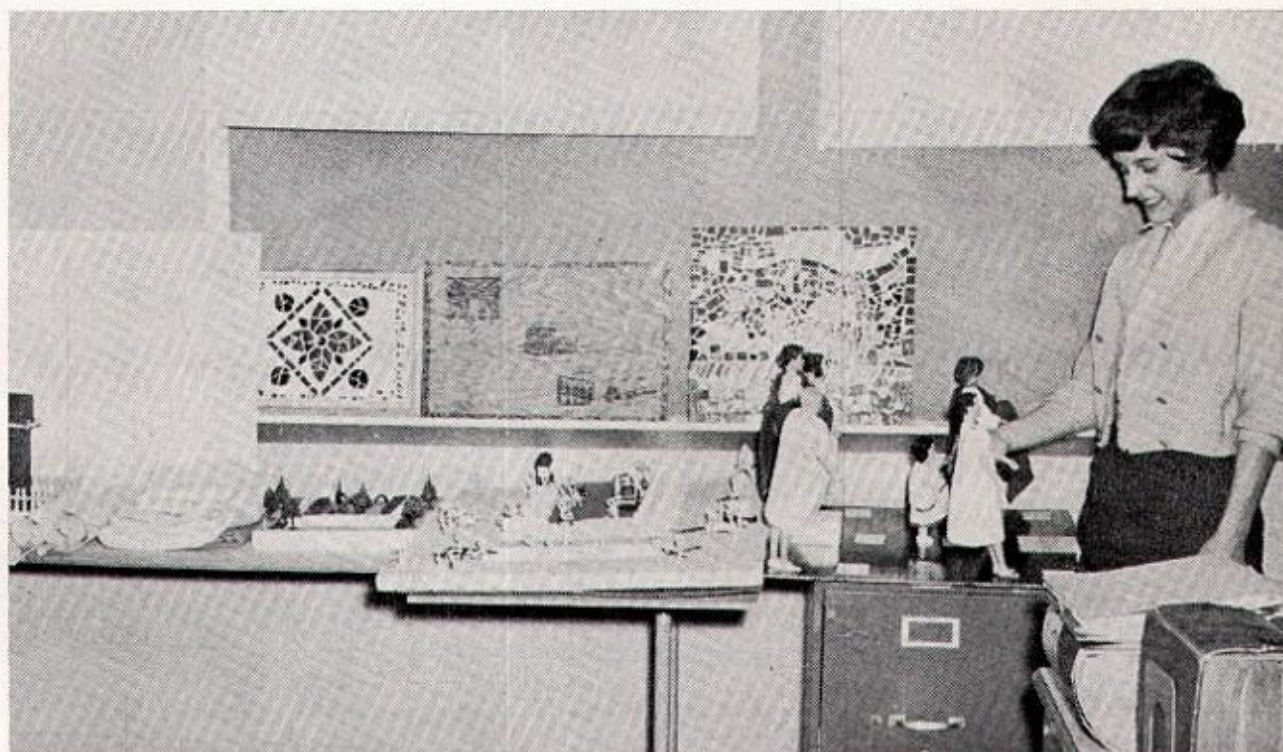

In the speech classes, students participate in debates, demonstrations, impromptu speeches, and various other phases of speaking.

The journalism classes each semester prepare six copies of the Courier and the Scurrier, an April Fool's copy.

Developmental reading, a required course, is aimed at developing better reading habits. By using shadowsopes and films, the students attain a higher rate of reading and better comprehension.

SHS Students Speak Four Languages

Latin students learn about Roman life with the help of special projects.

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

Three foreign languages — French, Spanish, and Latin — are offered to students wishing to be better equipped to live and communicate in the shrinking world of today.

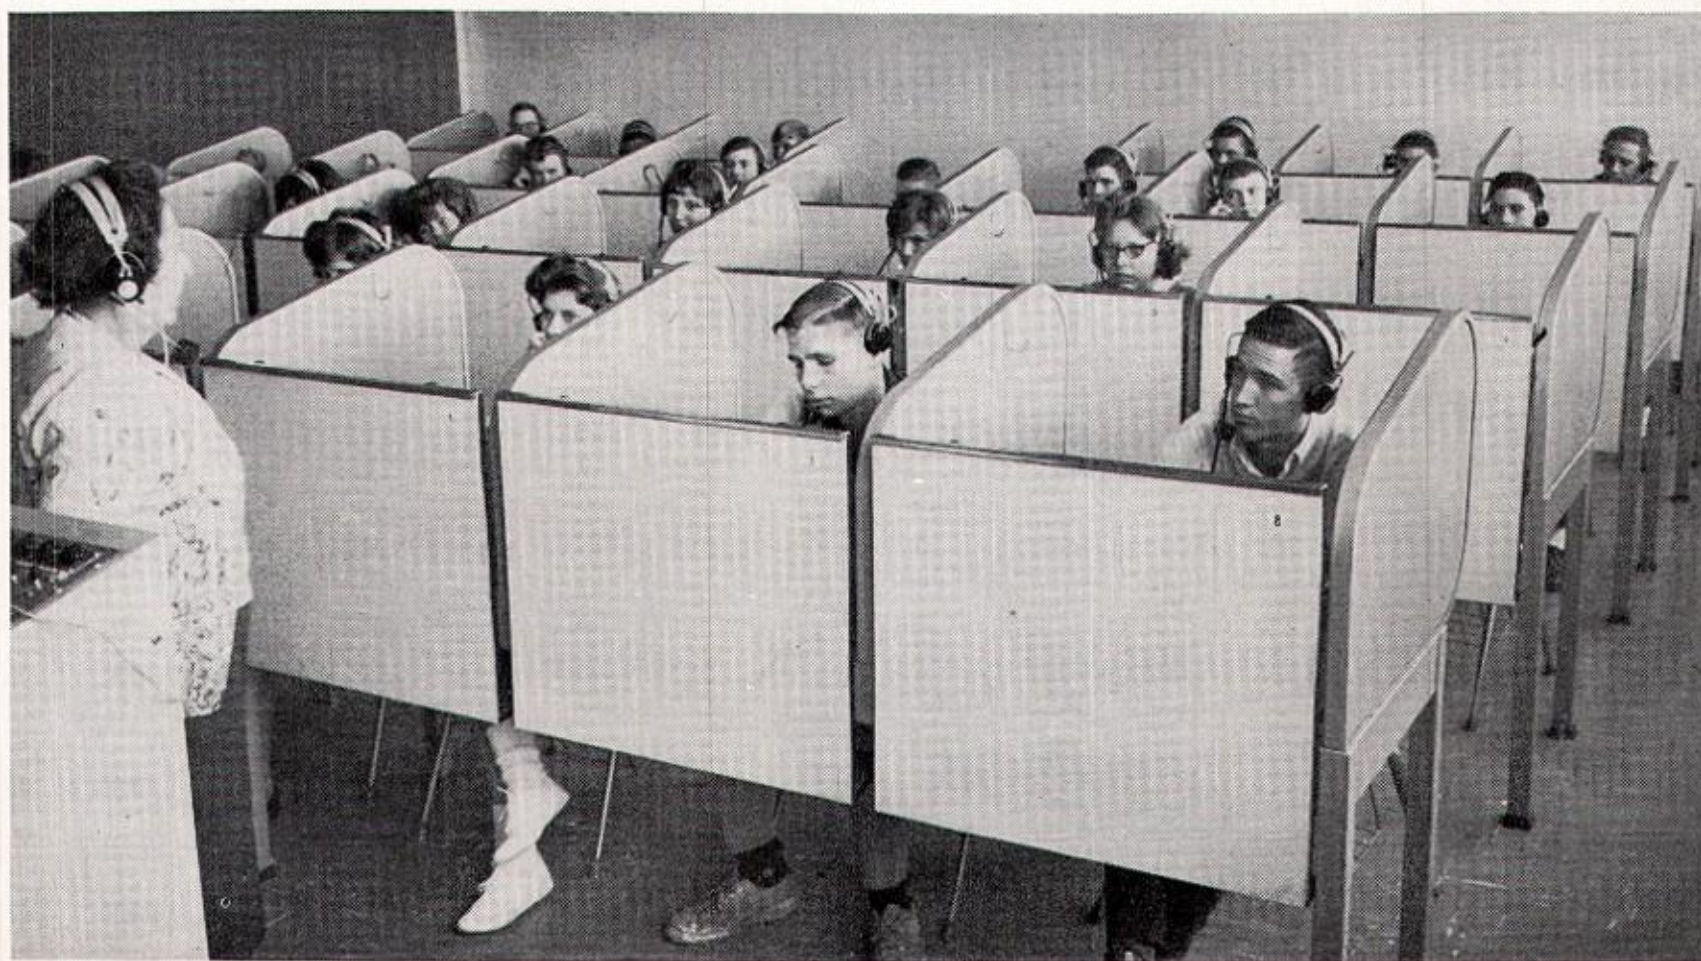

For the first time at SHS the Spanish teacher is a native of a Latin American country. In addition to the regular classroom teaching techniques, the Spanish teacher also uses the language laboratory and Life magazines written in Spanish.

Students desiring to learn the language and to study the history of France enroll in the French classes at SHS. Although most of the class work is oral, each student is required to write a 3,000 word research paper investigating some aspect of France.

For the first time in several years SHS offered a fourth year course in Latin. Besides translating parts of Vergil's Aeneid, these pupils were required to complete a project featuring one of their natural abilities. These projects varied from a model of the Circus Maximus constructed from sugar cubes to an original musical composition featuring principles of Roman music. Second year Latin students translated Caesar's Commentaries on the Gallic Wars.

Girls Prepare for Business World

Nimble fingers and speedy nerves make fast timed writings.

COMMERCE DEPARTMENT

The Commerce Department, offering the different business subjects — typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, business English, and general business — specializes in preparing the student for the various phases of work in the business world.

In the first year of typing and shorthand, the student learns the basic skills. During the second year, the student tries to attain both speed and accuracy through dictation, transcriptions and timed writings. In the second semester, the advanced typing students learn to file and to operate business machines.

In the bookkeeping, business English, and general business courses, students learn bookkeeping, filing, business terminology, business arithmetic, letter writing, and commercial geography.

Two fast typists, Cathy Coleman and Barb Hey, keep in practice by doing extra work for Mrs. Comstock.

The Finer Things in Life

Anyone passing through the doors at SHS can't help but notice the attractive display case. The decorations in the display case and the other decorations that adorn the halls during the various times of the year are all under the responsibility and direction of the art department. Besides keeping the halls at SHS attractively adorned, the art students keep busy with their own projects. These projects cover a wide area including lettering, ceramics, water colors, figure drawings, interior decorating, and poppy posters. For some of the advanced students a full semester can be used in designing and making their own hooked rugs.

Miss Williams instructs her beginning drawing class in sketching real life.

Ceramics artists add finishing touches to their creations.

Mr. Davies helps Joe Krick with his project in metal shop.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Today's modern world calls for individuals with specialized training and education. The vocational education program at SHS trains boys for jobs which will enable them to earn a living upon graduation from high school. Metal and wood-working shops provide an opportunity to learn about tools and equipment. Shop projects give the boys actual practice with the tools while they still are producing something useful for themselves.

Future engineers and draftsmen find the mechanical drawing classes very useful. These students learn the basic concepts and language of drafting. Advanced students may enroll in Engineering and Architectural Drawing. Safety in the shop and perfection at the drawing board are two of the many points students gain from industrial arts courses.

Lathing is serious business.

Hard work and concentration are necessary in this mechanical drawing class.

Mrs. Butler helps future homemakers with their needlework.

Homemakers Plan Ahead

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

The Home Economics Department consists of courses in foods, home management, child care, home nursing and first aid, family relationships, and the various courses in sewing.

Students in foods classes plan menus and learn to prepare foods for all daily meals. In addition, special holiday foods are prepared in laboratory periods. Nutrition is studied in relation to planning well-balanced meals.

In the sewing classes, the students learn about fibers, the selection of fabrics, and the actual process of making the garment. They make different garments, such as shirt-waist dresses and lined suits and coats, according to their division of work.

Agriculture Insures Our Future

Seated: Senior Officers: J. Bohman, Vice-Pres.; K. Clark, Treas.; J. Kincade, Pres.; R. Brown, Sec.; D. Holzenhausen, Sentinel.

Classroom study and shop work are equally important in the Vocational Agriculture Classes. Textbook knowledge, observation, and use of tools and machinery train the food producers of tomorrow. The Agriculture Shop provides ample room for tractors and other large machinery. Where else can a student repair his own machinery while still earning an "A" in class?

The Future Farmers of America, a national organization for boys in Vocational Agriculture, is an excellent supplement to their classroom studies. Some of the best, yet little known teams have brought honor to this organization and to the school. The club's motto "Learning to do; Doing to learn; Earning to live; Living to serve" sums up the importance of an organization such as the Future Farmers.

Work is diligent in Mr. Winchester's vocational agriculture shop.

All Safe Drivers at SHS

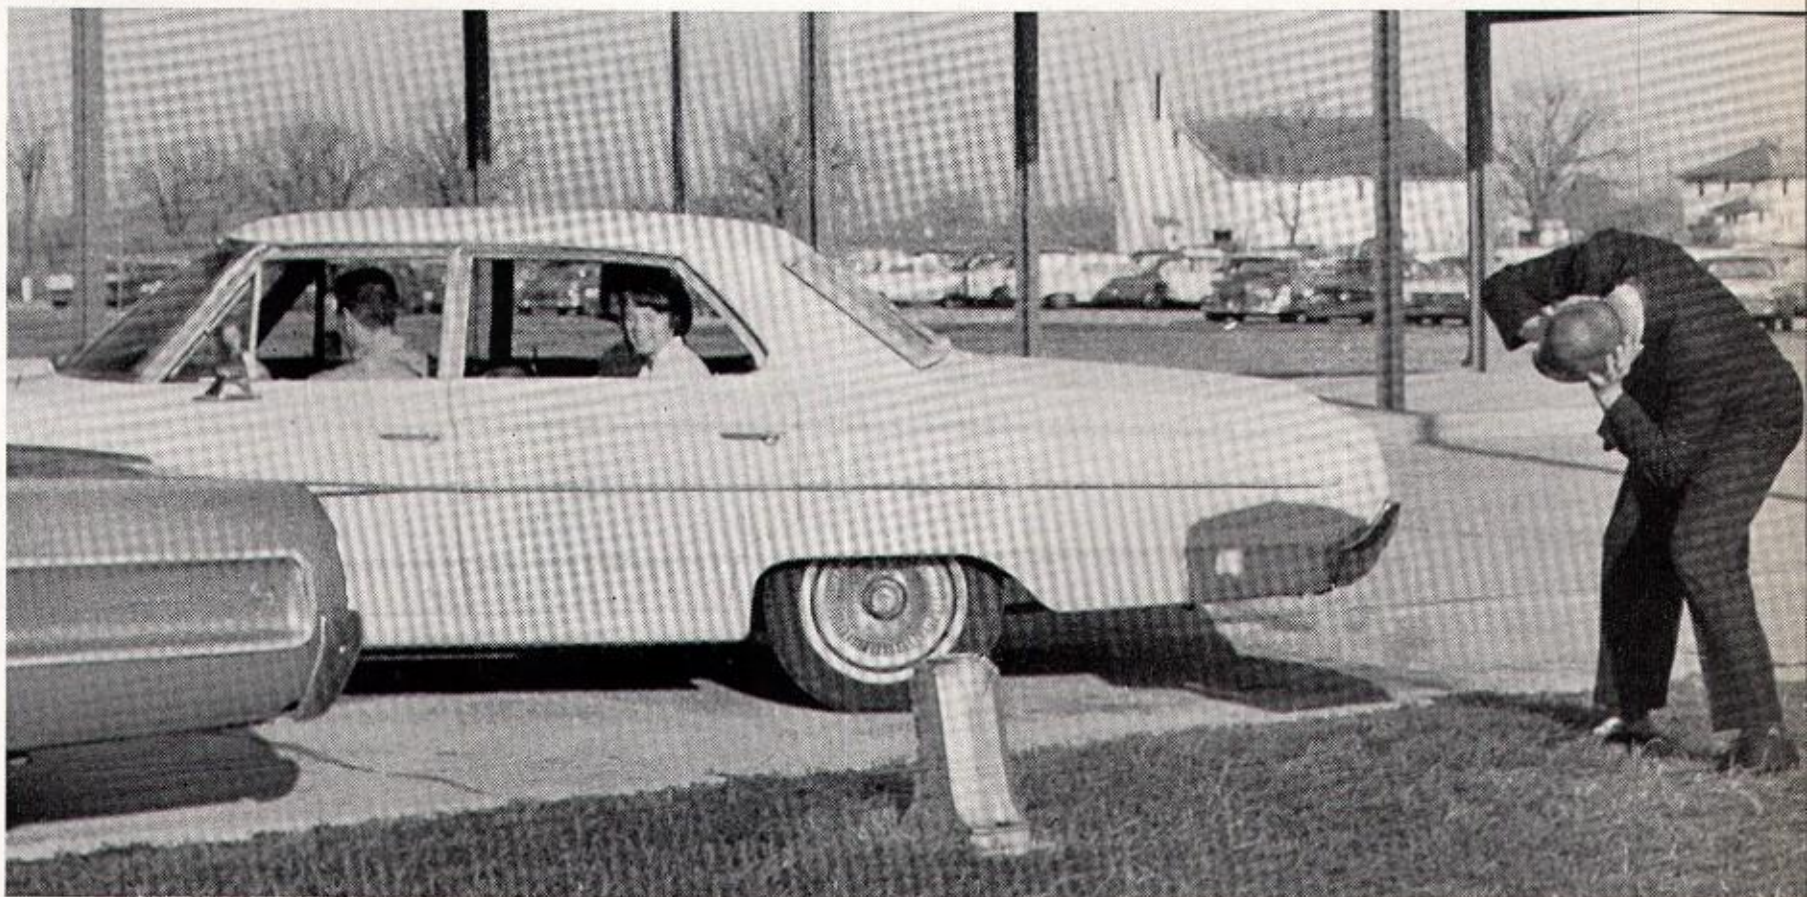

DRIVING

With the increased emphasis on highway safety, Shelbyville High School has made it possible for its students to take drivers' education. Beginning drivers learn safe-driving techniques in the latest automotive equipment. They also learn what makes a car run since all drivers must have a knowledge of the inner-workings of a car in order to become a good driver.

The driving course is divided between classroom study and actual highway driving. In order to pass the course, each student must have six hours of driving and a good knowledge of all state traffic laws.

SENIORS

Sure of our talents, conscious of our faults,
Eager are we to conquer life;
Never dismayed, we'll emerge the victor
In every hour of struggle and strife.
Offering our hands and minds,
Rekindling our hearts and souls,
Solemn, we depart to reach our separate goals.

— Donna Skinner "64"

As we look back on the last four years at SHS, we recall many memories that can never be erased. Will anyone ever forget the excitement of the 1963 Junior-Senior Prom or our Sophomore Party?

Because of hard work and determination, our class of 1964 has achieved many outstanding honors. The largest class to graduate from SHS, we number among our members three National Merit Scholarship finalists, Jack Borst, John Shambach, and Tom Trueb, and a national swimming champion, Jean Ann Dellekamp.

As our graduation grows near, we begin to cherish each remaining day in our high school lives. Some will use high school as a stepping stone to higher education. But no matter what our plans are after graduation, we know that our experiences in learning at SHS will aid us in making plans for the future.

We leave behind us four wonderful years with the hope that our mistakes may be corrected and our accomplishments remembered.

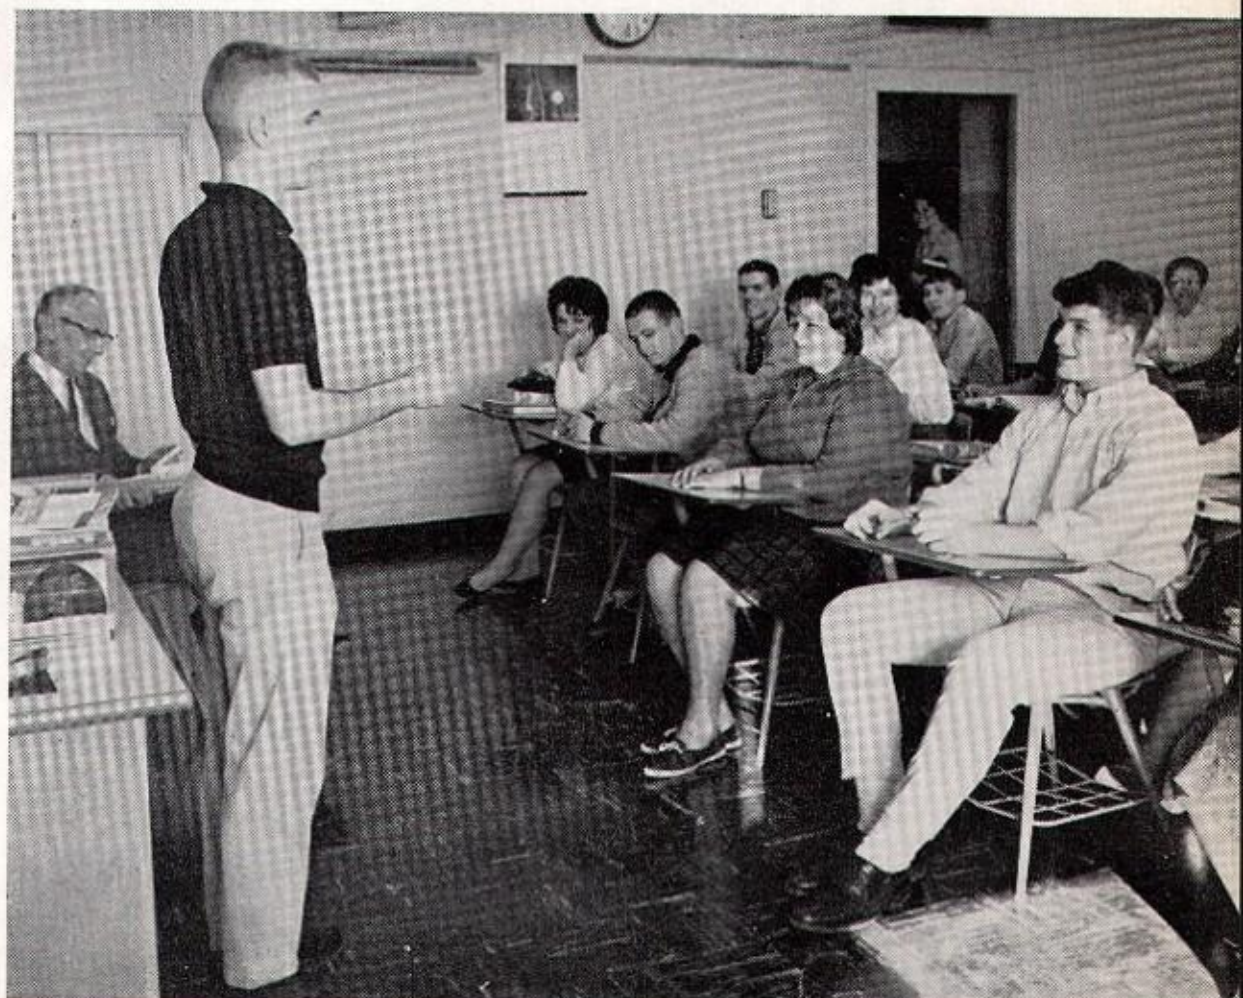

Senior girls supply the brawn; senior boys supply the brains!

Class of 1965

Each year the Junior Class takes the responsibility of selling candy during the lunch hour to finance the annual Junior-Senior Prom. Class members make one of the first steps toward preparation for college by taking the P.S.A.T. Their curriculum includes advanced algebra, chemistry, American Literature, U.S. History, and commerce.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Composed of twenty home room representatives, the Student Council initiated several new ideas to improve the student-teacher relationships at S.H.S. this year. In doing this, the Council sponsored a suggestion box for teachers, and a questionnaire for students, and also established a teacher appreciation day. Other activities of the Council were the sponsorship of the homecoming ceremonies and dance, the Fall-Wind-Up Dance, an officers' training school, and a pre-sectional pep session.

The Student Council Executive Committee, the policy-making body, consists of the officers of Student Council, the class presidents, the Squib editor, and one elected representative from each class. All matters of importance are first brought before this committee, and all amendments to the Constitution must originate in it.

The main purpose of the Council is to "establish a medium of association and cooperation with the principal and the faculty on school matters."

FORUM

The Shelbyville High School Forum, sponsored by Mr. Ray Hinshaw, meets bi-weekly throughout the school year to discuss topics of current interest or concern at local, national, and international levels. Some of the subjects which were discussed this year include the unrest in Panama, politics, the medical reports linking certain diseases to smoking, and the proposed medicare plans.

The membership, this year consisting of 59, is restricted to juniors and seniors. The Leadership Group, which directs and leads the discussion tables, sponsors a series of meetings of the Discussion Groups each year. These are held for the dual purpose of acquainting interested juniors and sophomores with Forum procedure and selecting new Forum members for the next year. This year's officers were John Shambach, pres.; Jack Borst, vice-pres.; Donna Skinner, sec.; and Linda Jones, treas.

HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is composed of 15% of the senior class selected from the upper 25% of their graduating class. This year 36 seniors were chosen for membership. The traditional dinner to honor the new members was held in April with parents and faculty as guests. Mr. Louis Bower, President of the Honor Society alumni in the community, presided at this meeting.

Language Clubs Formed

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club, sponsored by Mr. Alan Coyner was a newly organized club this year. Its purpose is to provide members with the opportunity to learn more about France than can be taught in regular classes. The club hopes to fulfill this purpose with the use of films, reports, and discussions. The officers of the organization were Dan Karnowsky, pres.; Mark McNeely, vice-pres.; Beccy Hendrickson, sec.; and Israel Orosco, treas.

SPANISH CLUB

Since classroom study alone is not sufficient to acquaint language students with the histories and customs of the countries in which the language is spoken, forty-five Spanish students, under the direction of Mrs. Orlando Pineiro formed a Spanish Club at SHS this year.

During some of the meetings, the club members have studied the populations and histories of Spain and the Latin American countries, their customs, their music and food with samples of each.

The Spanish Club's officers for this year were Mike Chafee, pres.; Jean Dellekamp, vice-pres.; Ronnie James, sec.; and Alice Griffith, treas.

Nurses Help At Hospital

FUTURE NURSES

The Future Nurses, composed of junior and senior girls with eyes toward a future in medicine, received valuable knowledge concerning the duties, qualifications, and experiences of a medical profession, from films and speakers in various fields of nursing. The club, sponsored by Mrs. Clarine Webster, encourages girls uncertain of their chosen career to become nurses. At Christmas each girl donates an hour of her time at Major Hospital.

Since Future Nurses are affiliated with the Junior Red Cross, sponsored by Miss Dorothy Morgan, city school nurse, the Future Nurses also do volunteer work for the Red Cross at Major Hospital. A Youth Leadership Camp is held each summer at Oxford University, Miami, Ohio, for a week. Two students, one from Shelbyville and one from a county school, are sent to this camp. Last summer, Mary Ann Wiggins was the SHS representative.

SUNSHINE SOCIETY

With a membership of almost 300, Sunshine Society is divided into three separate groups — Senior, Junior, and Sophomore Sunshines. The club's purpose, "Giving of ourselves and helping others," best describes the activities of the club.

Each year at Christmas the Sunshine Society contributes $50.00 to the Riley Fund, and at Thanksgiving they give food baskets to families specifically needing help. Sunshine girls also volunteered to work with mentally retarded children this year. The Senior Sunshine also sponsors a tea for Senior mothers each spring.

The clubs only income is derived from its annual candy sale. Each year one state and one district meeting are held with all Sunshine members attending.

Hi-Y Serves School

HI-Y CLUB

The purpose of the Hi-Y Club, affiliated with the YMCA, is to create, maintain, and extend through the home, school and community high standards of Christian character. The Hi-Y assists the school, other organizations, and the individual students. Guiding the club to its goals are its sponsors, Mr. Loren Hemingway and Mr. Alan Coyner.

The valedictorian plaque in the front corridor was presented and is maintained by the club. It has also established a floating fund to aid Mr. Sharp in equipping students with books and suitable clothing so they might continue school. In cooperation with the music department, the Hi-Y presents Thanksgiving and Easter programs and supplies ushers at the annual Sacred Concert.

The organization grants a $100.00 scholarship to one of its members yearly and also holds a winter party and spring picnic for members and guests. To earn money for these and other activities, the Hi-Y operates the coat-check concession at the home basketball games.

Athletes Make The Grade

S-CLUB

SHS athletes who win a varsity letter, maintain a minimum 81 scholastic average, and are selected by unanimous vote of the standing members compose the membership of the S-Club. The purposes of this organization are to promote high scholarship and clean sportsmanship and to create and maintain a high regard for the athletic awards of the school.

The S-Club is in charge of concessions at home football games. The club's primary projects are initiation services and post-initiation dinner at which the men of the faculty and graduate members are guests.

N.A.S.S.

The N.A.S.S. consists of varsity athletes who have obtained an average of 87% or higher. To be eligible for this honor you must be a varsity letter winner in any of the 4 major sports or a two varsity letter winner in one of the minor sports. The purpose of N.A.S.S. is to give recognition to varsity athletes who have excelled in school work.

Sampling Future Vocations

FUTURE TEACHERS

The Future Teachers' Association sponsors special programs the third Monday of every month. These programs give different slants on the field of teaching. Some of the programs have been on "Education in Cuba", a talk given by Mrs. Yolando Piniero; the functions of the school board, given by Mrs. Marion McFadden; and the preparations for teaching, given by a representative from Ball State Teachers' College.

To supplement these programs, each of the 60 members are encouraged to do cadet training either at the junior high or one of the elementary schools in the city. This was devised to give students a first hand look at teaching and practice in teaching.

JOURNALISM

In addition to mere study, Journalism students actually practice the fundamentals and techniques which they learn by putting out the Courier, the school newspaper.

Who, what, when, where, and how are the five basic principles which students must remember in gathering and writing up school news. After the news is typed, it is sent to the printing office; thus each Journalism class goes on two field trips—one to the printing office and one to a newspaper office.

In order to become well-rounded reporters, the students study and contribute stories in each of the various departments such as sports, clubs and organizations, editorials, and features. They also learn about the business part of running a paper by selling subscriptions and advertisements to finance the Courier. Miss Marion Chenoweth teaches the class and sponsors the Courier.

CHOIR

The Robed Choir participated in many activities this year, including the Thanksgiving Day Convocation, presented by the Hi-Y, the Christmas program, and a special Christmas show for the Rotarians at the Elks Club. In the district vocal and piano contest the Choir had 45 contestants which took 17 first divisions. Then in the state contest eight out of the twelve entries earned first ratings. The annual Sacred Concert, given by the vocal department, at the Methodist Church was held March 22nd. The May Festival and Bacalaurate Services rounded out the years schedule. This years officers were Rick Coffin, pres.; Sharon Burnside, vice-pres.; Marilyn Landwerlen, sec.-treas; and Carolyn Meiks and Penny Ivie, accompanists.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

This year's Glee Club, made up of 63 boys, performed for various groups during the school year. Twelve Glee Club boys participated in an ensemble which received a second division rating in the district vocal contest. They performed some special numbers for the Rotary Club during their annual Christmas dinner.

The Club's officers were Jerry McMichael, pres.; Tom Trueb, vice-pres.; Doug Horton, sec.-treas.; Scott Griffey, librarian; and John Hayes, accompanist.

SINGING STARS

The Singing Stars, composed of 22 girls are chosen according to their abilities in three classes, voice quality, showmanship, and personality. After dividing into two ensembles for district and state vocal contests, the Singing Stars won firsts in both contests. They also participated with the Show Group in its activities and in addition performed special shows for small groups. For the Sacred Concert they sang a special arrangement of choir hymns. The officers for this year were Bev Craig, pres.; Carolyn Meiks, vice-pres.; Marilyn Landwerlen, sec.-treas.; and Ann Howery, librarian.

SHOW GROUP

Since the Show Group was organized in 1960 by Mr. Martin Schulz, it has met with great success. They have performed for many different groups such as the Kiwanis, Elks, F.O.P., and Democrats. The Show Group consists of the Singing Stars and 22 boys from the Glee Club. The shows this year have consisted of a variety of numbers including comedy, folk singing, dancers, hillbillies, and a choral arrangement of songs.

The Show Group was headed by Tom Trueb, pres.; Carolyn Meiks, vice-pres.; Marilyn Landwerlen, sec.-treas.; and Rick Coffin, librarian.

DANCE BAND

The Goldenaires, Shelbyville High School's dance band consisting of 26 members this year, concentrated its efforts primarily on providing the music for the May Festival. Members of this group were chosen from the varsity marching band on the basis of their interest and ability in popular music. The band was also available to play for dances in the community. Director of the band is Mr. Fritz Chesser, SHS music teacher.

BAND

The 55 members of the Shelbyville High School Band were off to an early start before school even started this year by practicing their precision band techniques in preparation for the first football game. They performed for football fans before, after, and during half times of all home games. Then, as the season changed, the band threw away their marching shoes and took up pennant seats in the band section at the home basketball games. The eight majorettes frequently put on special half-time shows at the home games. On March 19 the Band presented their annual concert. Then they started work on their May Festival numbers which they executed with great precision and accuracy.

Band officers this year were: Jack Borst, captain; Jerry McMichael, Beverly Craig, Ken Garlitch, and Glenn Barnes, lieutenants; Libby Coulston, drum majorette; Vicki Evans, head majorette; Judy Wagner, secretary; Anita Junken, Ken Lane, and Carol McCabe, librarians; Diane Ewick, Karen Duckworth, and Verna Irwin, uniform committee.

CONCESSIONS

Under the direction of Mr. Thompson and Mr. Barnett, the Concessions' purpose was to help finance the Squib. Doug Horton, business manager, ably assisted the faculty sponsors. The trademarks for the members of Concessionaires were white blouses, dark skirts, and yellow aprons for the girls, while the boys wore plastic aprons. At all the home basketball games these Concessionaire workers could be found selling their wares — cokes, popcorn, and ice cream.

Students Further Interests

MASK AND DAGGER

Mask and Dagger, which introduces students to the glorious thrill of staging a successful play, has the largest membership this year of its five-year existence. In addition to acting, Mask and Dagger members study other aspects of the theatre including working as stagehands, directors, and studying lighting, make-up, and costume techniques.

The club produced three one-act plays this year — The Gimmick, Sob Stuff, and Last Night's Paper. Student directors for the plays were Janet Fox, Gretchen Sandefur, Shirley O'Mara, Glenn Barnes, and Steve LaBarbera.

Along with the hard work and practice involved in producing a play, members of Mask and Dagger have learned that fun, pleasure, and experience are also pleasant derivatives of participation in a dramatics club.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

To be of service to the school and community in any effort to promote general welfare and to promote interest in all phases of the homemaking arts are the two main objectives of the Home Economics Club, sponsored by Miss Bodem.

The club also strives to provide worthwhile and interesting programs for its members. Planning and presenting an annual Christmas tea for the faculty is its main project.

Officers of the club for this year were Barbara Randolph, pres.; and Barbara Van Sickle, sec.-treas.

Girls Serve School

OFFICE GIRLS

The 18 girls, who devote one of their study halls each day to working in the office, play an important role in the efficiency of the school. These volunteers, all in their second year of commercial work, assisting Mrs. Craige, Mr. Clay, Mr. McKeand, or Mrs. Simpson.

Collecting attendance slips, operating the switchboard, running errands, and typing letters are only a few of the many jobs that the girls perform and which prepares them for future commercial work.

LIBRARY CLUB

Members of the Library Club contribute one of their daily free periods to working in the SHS library. Under the charge of Mrs. Kinsley the fourteen girls learn to take charge of the check out desk, straighten shelves, help students find needed materials, and mend and shelve books.

The Library Aides work to create a pleasant atmosphere for students studying in the library by creating various displays and posters during the school year. The displays and posters also draw students' attention to interesting and exciting books.

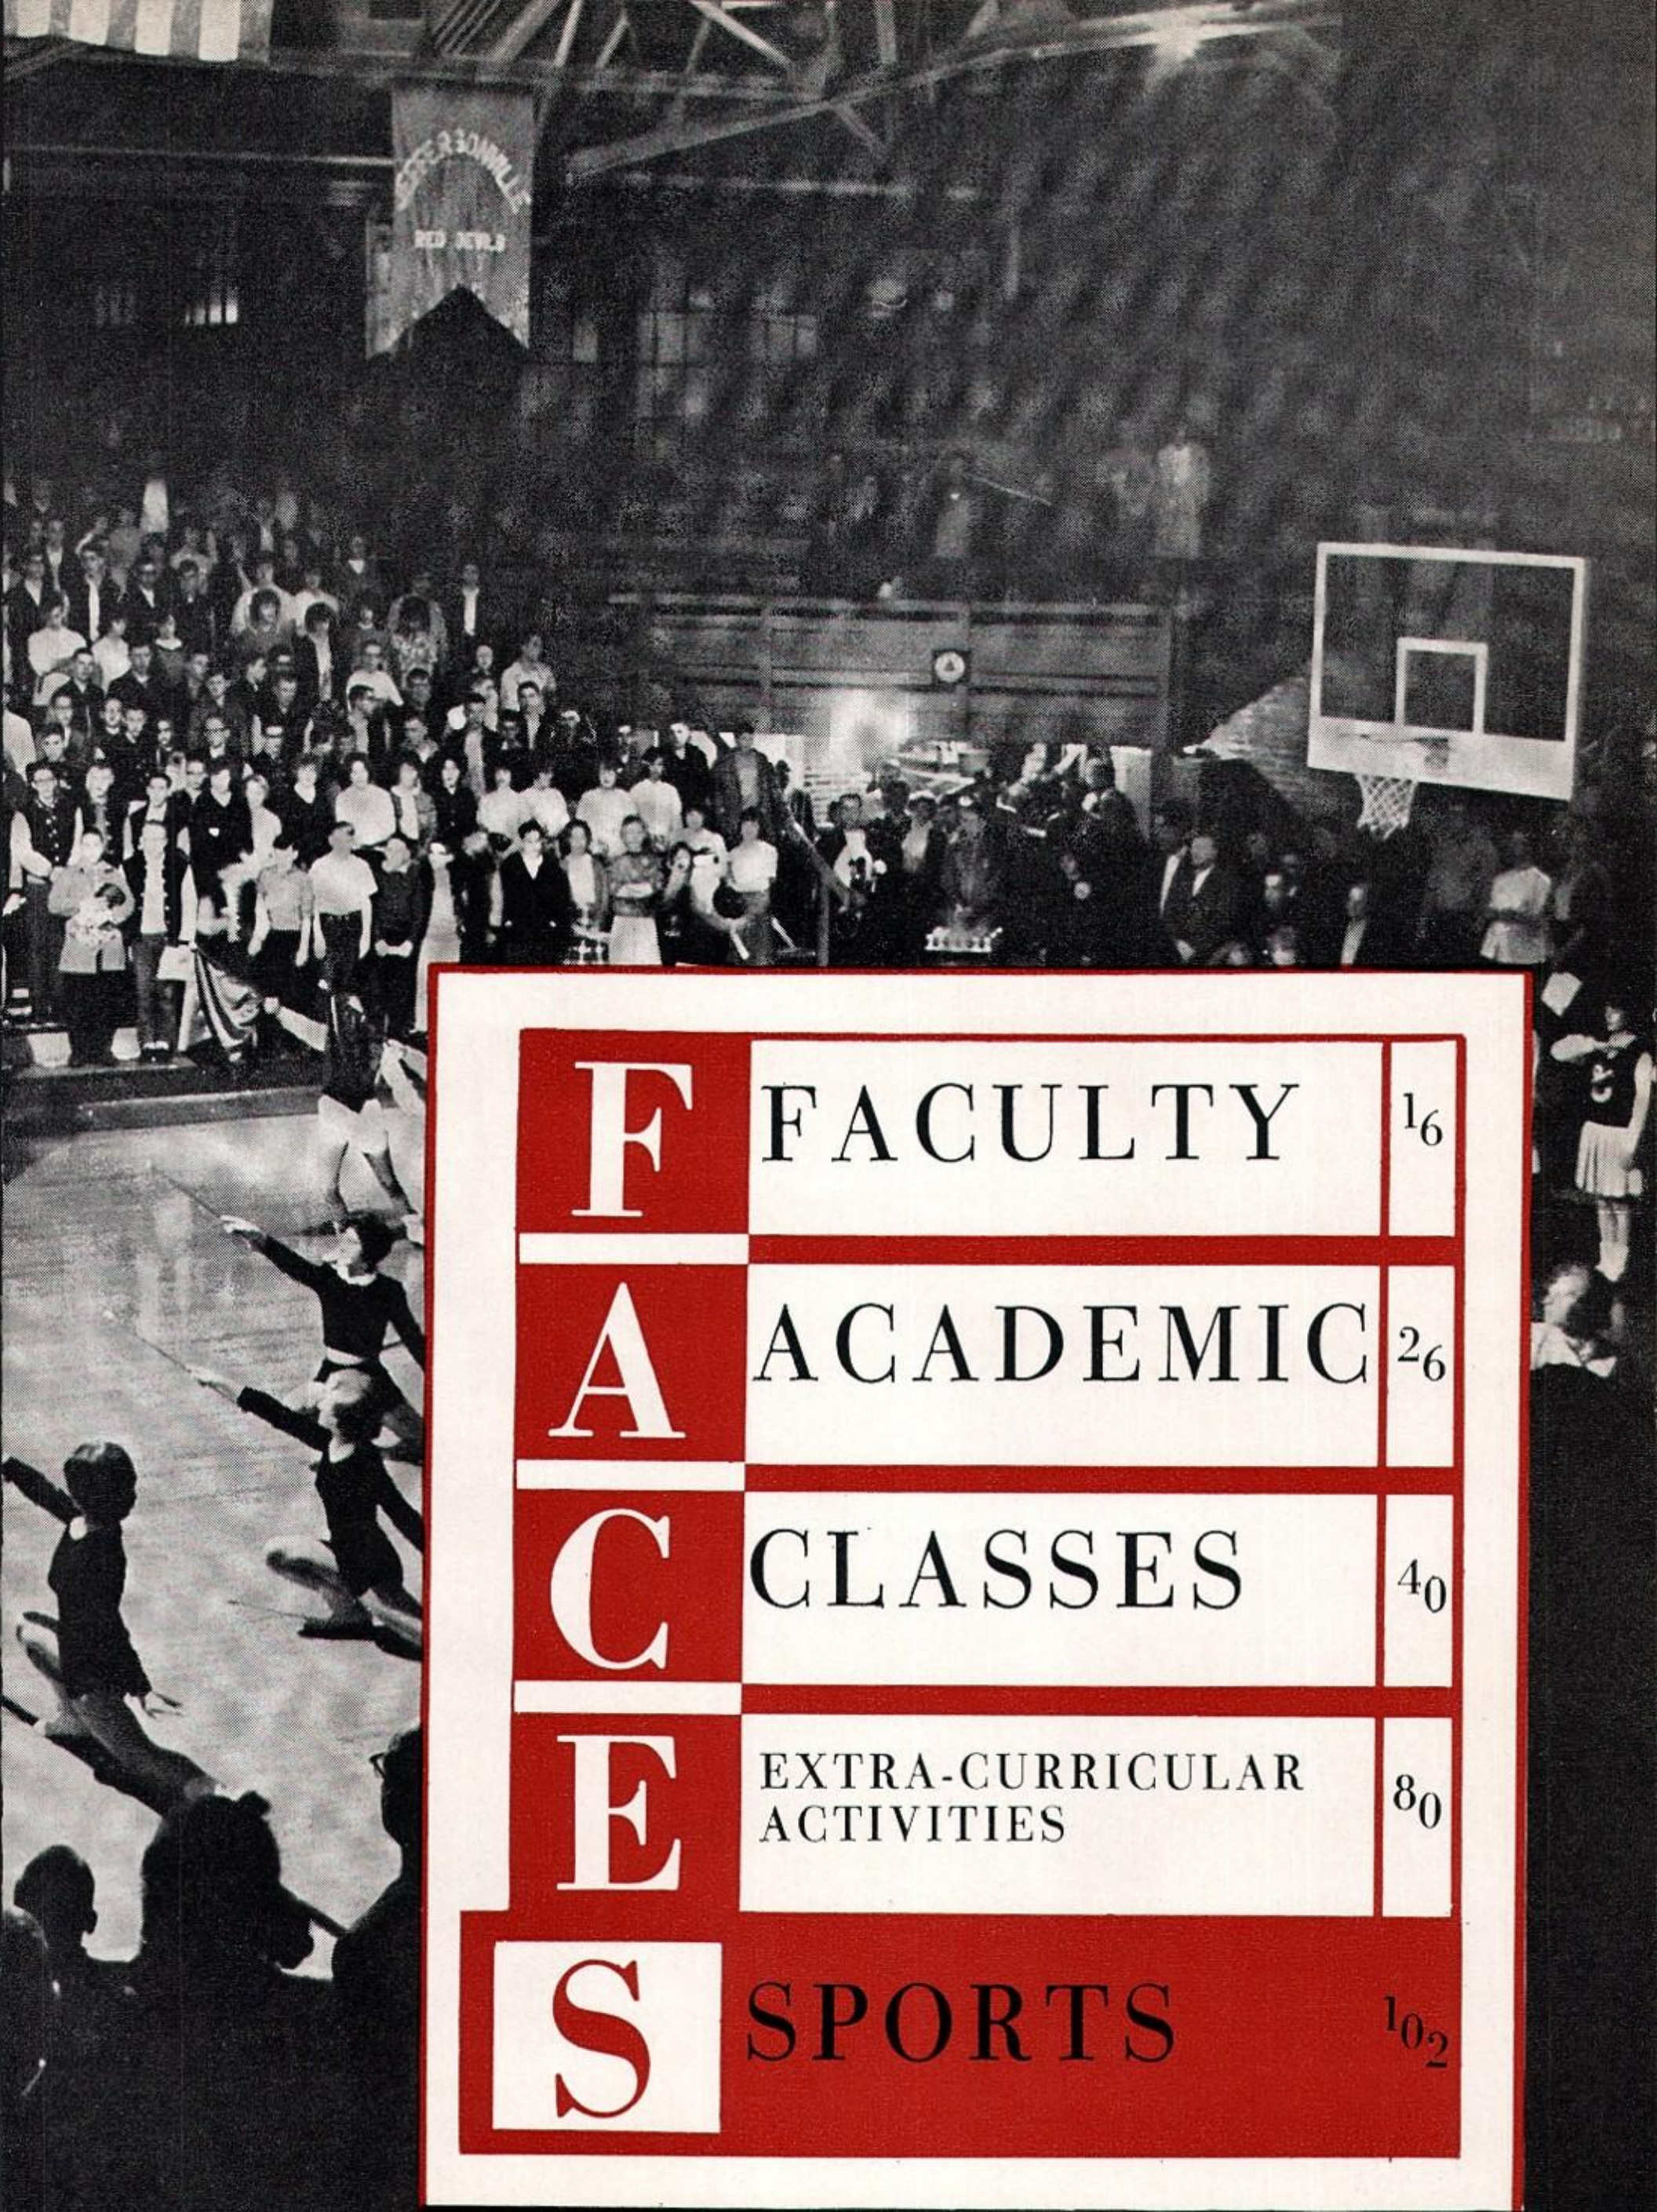

Sponsoring the annual Teachers' Tea, usually during National Book Week, is one of the club's main activities. During the tea, the teachers are given a chance to investigate new books concerning each of their subjects. The club also sponsors a Christmas part each year, and it closes the year with a party during the spring.

Bears Prove Rugged For Foes

FOOTBALL

This year most of the team was composed of lettermen from last year. Bob Zimney, head coach, and Art Morgan and Eugene McNew, assistant coaches, remarked that the squad had depth, desire, and size.

Getting off to a bad start didn't help the desire of the squad but showed the coaches where the team's weaknesses were.

Winning their first game against Martinsville sent the team's desire through the ceiling.

Throughout the year the Bruins played some very impressive ball.

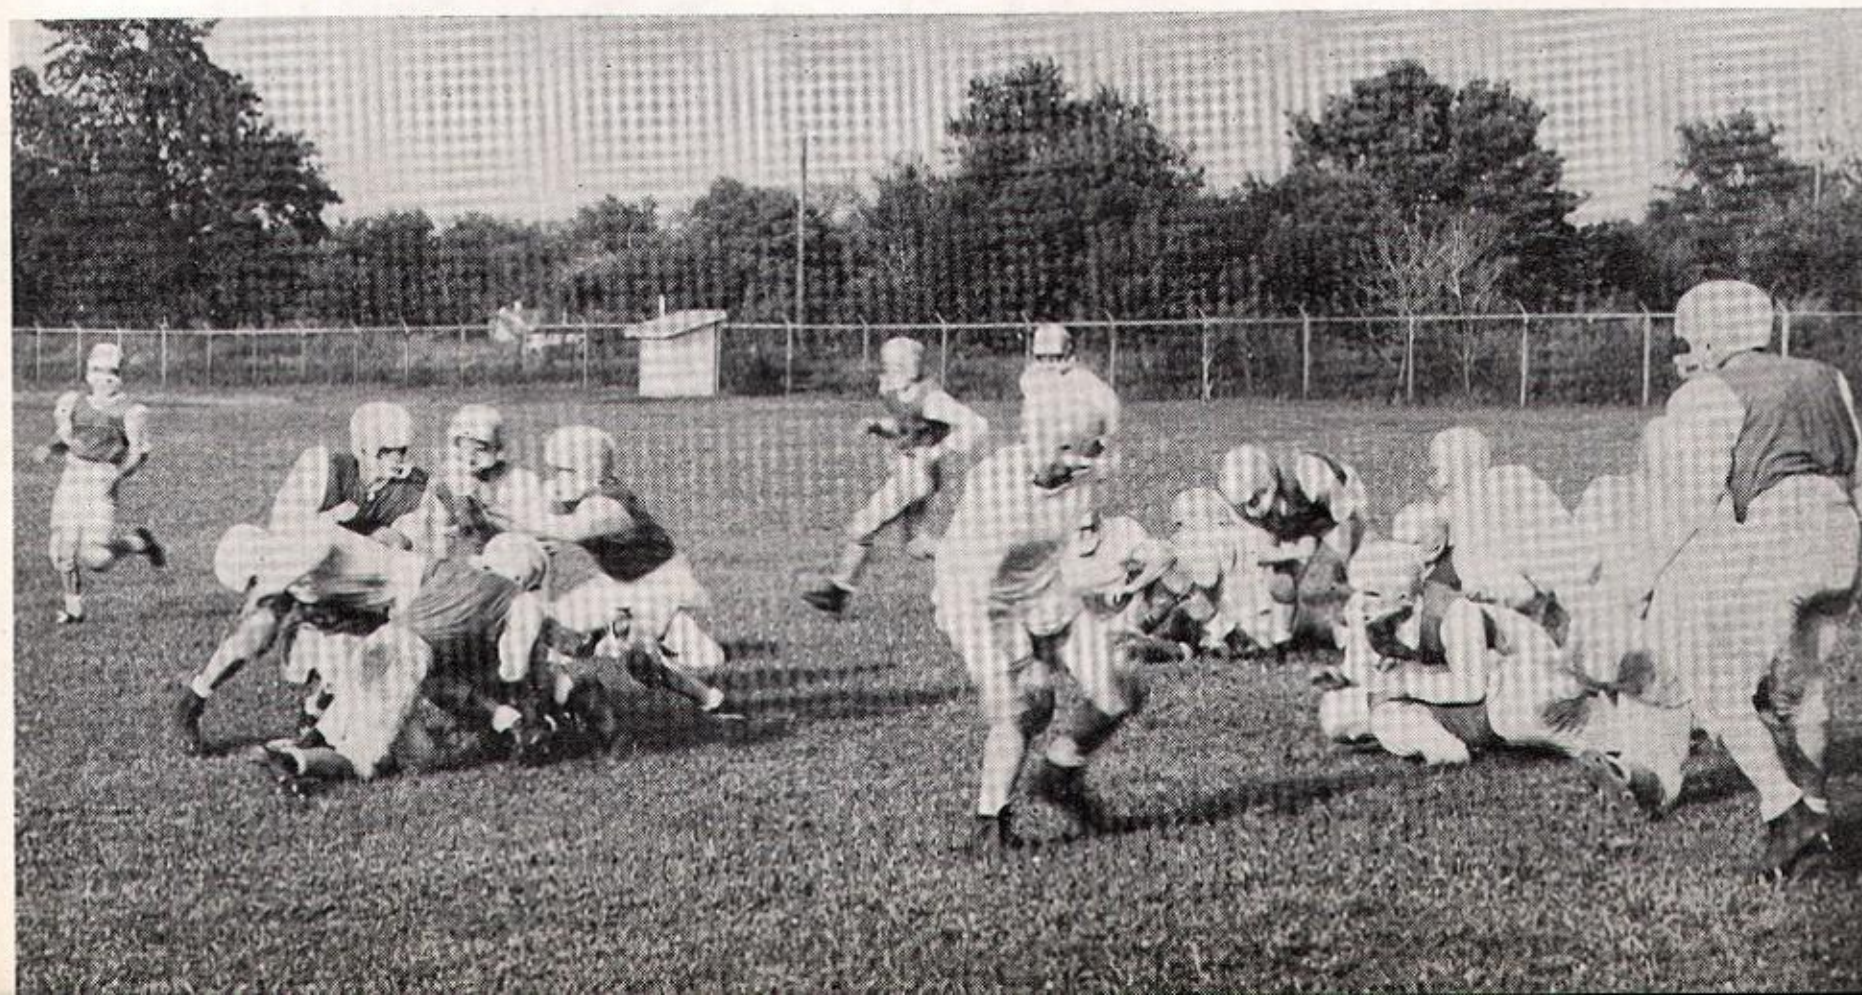

At the end of the season the team members voted Joe Mohr and Tom Strawn honorary co-captains; Tom Strawn, most valuable player; and Rich Adams, outstanding lineman. Rich Adams was named to the all South Central Conference team and Tom Strawn received honorable mention.

GOLF

Missing the conference title by only a few strokes, the 1963 golf team finished second in the South Central Conference golf match. In spite of losing the conference title, for the first time in 3 years, the golf team bettered last year's record of placing first in two of its three scheduled meets by winning every regular match of this year's season. One of the team members, Steve Lackey, was a finalist in the state golf meet.

TENNIS

Under the leadership of Coach Hemingway the tennis team made a fine third place showing in the conference tennis match. They also played a tough 5 game schedule which included the conference winner, Greensburg. In the conference the SHS doubles team composed of Steve Martin and Don Wilson went all the way to the finals before they were defeated.

BASKETBALL

Although winning just seven of twenty starts the 1963-64 Golden Bears provided the fans with many exciting moments. Twice during the season they battled a highly touted Rushville team down to the wire only to lose in the closing minutes.

Displaying not only fine athletic ability but also sportsmanlike conduct, the Bears demonstrated the fine coaching of Mr. Blind and his assistants. Besides Rushville they also played Seymour, Columbus, Anderson, and Howe, all of which reached the Semi-state in tournament play.

Squib Staff commends Mr. Blind and his dedicated group of players for their outstanding efforts and congratulates Tom Strawn upon being chosen to the South Central Conference team.

Being somewhat hampered because of having four sophomores on the varsity this year, Bruin Cubs, coached by Art Morgan, won only three regularly scheduled games. Bill Higgins was the most consistent sophomore scorer. He was backed up by other sophomore regulars Mertie Bass, John Collins, and James Martin. Showing much desire and determination this year's B-team was much better than their record concludes.

Trackmen Hopeful

TRACK

Although the 1964 track season hadn't opened when Squib went to press, the future looks bright. Since many lettermen and experienced boys are returning this season, there should be a lot of improvement shown over last year, thus making SHS strong in several events.

Some of the better events in track this year should be the shot put with Mike Chafee, the high jump with Tom Strawn, and the broad jump and 100 yard dash with Jim Martin.

Mullen hits finish line far ahead.

BASEBALL

Having lost seven lettermen at last year's graduation, Mr. Blind has a young inexperienced ball club with mostly sophomores and juniors. This year the schedule includes a new major event, a South Central Conference baseball tourney to determine the conference champion.

Girls Go For Sports Too

G. A. A.

The Girls Athletic Association is an organization to promote participation of S.H.S. girls in athletics. The members participate in both major and minor sports. The major sports are basketball, baseball, volley ball, and bowling. Tumbling and track are the minor sports. The club also introduced swimming and ice skating into its schedule this year.

By participating in these sports, the girls earn points for pins, letters, and plaques. The purpose of the club is to increase the girls sportsmanship and appreciation for sports.

Miss Loretta Taylor, J.H.S. girls' physical education teacher, and Miss Charlotte Newby, J.H.S. algebra teacher, are co-sponsors of the club. The officers were Jean O'Mara, pres.; Sally Horton, vice-pres.; Manarda Payne, sec.; and Diana Caughey, treas.

CHEER LEADERS

The peppy cheering section at this years games was not an accident. The hard work of the Varsity and B team cheerleaders led the way for enthusiastic fans. Practice was the by-word for these girls. Mrs. Ramey, their sponsor, was just as active as the cheerleaders themselves. Congratulations to these girls and Mrs. Ramey for such an expert job well accomplished.

Editor's Note

The ~~FACES~~ of Shelbyville High School include the faculty, academics, classes, extra-curricular activities, and sports. We of the SQUIB staff have tried to record these faces for you in the 1964 SQUIB. We hope that in the years to come this book will help you to remember more vividly the faces of your high school years.

There are many people who have made this yearbook possible and we of the staff owe them many thanks. To Mr. John Coomer, editorial advisor, goes a special "thank you". He has shown complete confidence in us as we made this book a student production. Thanks go to the faculty and administration who have been very co-operative and understanding of all our problems. We cannot forget to thank the business staff and its advisors, Mr. Lawrence Thompson and Mr. Arthur Barnett, who raised the funds for production. We must thank Chafee's Studio, Qualityprint, Ropkey Engraving Company, and Smithcraft Cover Company for their parts in this book.

I should like to thank personally my hard-working editorial staff for all the time and thought they put into their sections.
